The Future of Design is Cross Disciplinary

Designers Meet is GCC's first cross-disciplinary design conference, bringing together every design discipline under one roof.

For the first time in GCC history, graphic designers will network with interior designers, automotive designers will collaborate with digital marketers, and product designers will connect with brand strategists, creating unprecedented opportunities for innovation, collaboration, and business growth.

This one-day conference blends keynotes, panels, exhibitions, and networking into an inspiring platform where creativity meets collaboration – and design meets business.

The DESIGN COMMUNITY is coming together!

Designers Meet 2026 brings together professionals from across industries for a full day of learning, discovery, and connection. The event bridges gaps between traditional design disciplines and modern business innovation - encouraging cross-disciplinary learning and collaboration.

From bold talks on design thinking and sustainability to hands-on showcases of digital tools and creative products, the conference creates an ecosystem for Designers to Connect, Brands to Collaborate, and Ideas to Grow.

Designers Meet 2026 is the first step towards building the World's Largest Cross Disciplinary Design Community.
